

The RIVERDALE PRESS

January 7, 2010

Stepping Out

Art

The Bronx Council on the Arts is celebrating the 20th anniversary of its prestigious BRIO (Bronx Recognizes its Own) Award with the special new exhibition “Anthem: an all-american dystopia,” which is now on display in the Longwood Art Gallery, at Hostos Community College, through Saturday, Feb. 6.

This showcase explores an America within the crux of reforming a national identity and it focuses on themes of family, health, politics, urban crisis and decay, as well as environmental issues, consumerism and globalization.

All of the 20 artists with work featured in this showcase are 2008 and 2009 BRIO award winners.

Hostos is located at 450 Grand Concourse and 149th Street, in the Bronx.

Admission is free and open to the public.

For viewing hours and other information, call 718-518-6728. ■