Appearing on stage, in movies and now recently on TV, who better than Gene DiNapoli to be called Mr. Entertainment? Gene has mastered his long-standing musical tributes to Elvis Presley, The Blues Brothers and more recently Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin, as well as other Italian American singers playing in casinos and nightclubs all over the United States. However unlike the previous acts, Gene was not born and raised in Memphis, Chicago, Jersey or even Ohio, but in the East Coast music capital of the world, The Bronx, the only city in the world that starts with 'THE' (except for The Vatican). Just sayin'.

So therefore, it was only a matter of time before Gene started to do a show based on the music of several Bronx artists, such as Bobby Darin, Dion, Tony Orlando and more. Songs like "Runaround Sue", "Splish Splash" and "Knock Three Times" are now considered classics and are some of the best loved songs in all of music.

Gene's "Variety All-Star Show", which is a throwback to the shows of yesteryear like Ed Sullivan and Milton Berle, showcases music from 50s Doo Wop, 60s Rock 'n Roll and 70s Pop and highlights a variety of talent. The 2015 line-up includes Sinatra stylist Anthony Farino; Vegas singer Vittorio; The Sweethearts of Doo Wop, Twin Gold; Bill Turner from Bill Haley's Comets; Belly Dancer Extraordinaire Noora Eshams; Lindy Hop Dancers Maria and Roman; Guitar player and Gene's High School teacher Paul Grasso; and Gil Chimes, the original Harmonica player on Tie a Yellow Ribbon for Tony Orlando.

Gene realizes that the music of yesterday is being lost and he finds it his honor and destiny to keep that music alive forever. Therefore the Gene DiNapoli All-Star Variety Show was born. So sit back and enjoy tonight's show starring Bronx native Gene DiNapoli. Learn more about Gene DiNapoli at www.genedinapoli.com. Like him on Facebook.
