This evening will feature a civil rights dialogue with artist Howard T. Cash. Light refreshments will be served.

Admission to this event is free and open to the public.

Opening Doors explores the impact of the Civil Rights Movement in the US of the 1950s and 1960s and measures its relevance and presence in today's society. Mr. Cash will facilitate an intergenerational dialogue among those who were present during the Movement with the younger generation of today. One of the most crucial topics to be explored in this dialogue includes: What are some of the freedoms, rights and opportunities sought after, secured and realized based on actions of the Civil Rights Movement?
