

NEW YORK TODAY

FREE & CHEAP

List your event: NewYorkToday@NYDailyNews.com with the date in the subject field. And online to: nydailynews.com/new_york_events

Enjoy more NYC with a daily look at where to go and what to do – close to home and around the city.

KUDOS TO BUDOS. The Budos Band is an energetic, 10-piece ensemble of musicians inspired by a variety of genres, such as jazz and metal. They'll bring instrumental Afro-soul to SummerStage in Tappan Park. 7 p.m. Free. Canal St. at Bay St., Staten Island. (212) 360-8290.

AS IF. Channel your inner teen girl for a screening of the 1995 comedy "Clueless," starring Alicia Silverstone. It's part of the Movie Free for All series. 8:30 p.m. McCarren Park, Driggs Ave. at Union Ave., Brooklyn. For further information, visit www.epixhd.com.

TO BEAD OR NOT TO BEAD. Kids, ages 4 and up, can make necklaces and bracelets for family and friends at "Moomah's Project of the Day: Beaded Jewelry Making." 9 a.m.–5 p.m. $15. Moomah Cafe, 161 Hudson St. (212) 226-0345.

'BLANK' SCREEN. The BMW Guggenheim Lab – a collaboration between the automaker and the renowned art museum – debuts the documentary "Blank City." It's a look at the underground art scene created during 1970s New York. 6–8:30 p.m. Free. 33 E. First St. (212) 423-3500.

BLASTS FROM THE PAST. Authors David Wallace and Richard Goldstein will discuss "The New York Century: Popular History & Culture" and how this city has influenced the country. Wallace's newest book, "Capital of the World," recalls the Jazz Age of Prohibition, and Goldstein's "Helluva Town" recounts New York's role in the World War II war effort. 7:30 p.m. Free. Greenlight Bookstore, 686 Fulton St., Brooklyn. (718) 246-0200.

HOW 'SUITE' IT IS! Smooth jazz musician Anders Holst performs hits from his latest album, "SoHo Suite," at Tudor

BRYAN PAGE

Bronx Culture Trolley is back and on a roll.

City Greens. It's part of "Swinging on the Moon – Cool Jazz for a Hot Summer Night." 6:30 p.m. Free. 1 Tudor Place at Second Ave. www.tudorcitygreens.org.

A DRIVING PASSION. The Staten Island Region Antique Automobile Club of America rolls into town for "Family Cruise Nites: Classic Car Showcase." Take a closer look at the golden age of the American automobile. 5:30-8:30 p.m. Free. Historic Richmond Town, 441 Clarke Ave., Staten Island. (718) 351-1611.

REMEMBER THE CRANE. Fold a traditional crane from Japan and learn the story of "Sadako and the Thousand Paper Cranes." Then make an amazing popup book to tell your own story. Pre-registration is required. 2:30 p.m. Free. Douglaston/Little Neck Library, 249-01 Northern Blvd., Queens. (718) 225-8414.

HELLO, TROLLEY! The Bronx Culture Trolley rolls again. Hop on and catch exhibits at the Longwood Art Gallery Hostos, Bronx Museum of the Arts, BronxArtSpace and more. 5 p.m. Longwood Art Gallery at Hostos Community College, 450 Grand Concourse at 149th St., Bronx. (718) 931-9500, ext. 33.

Lisa Gomez and Jordan Teichner