Bronx Council on the Arts

Bronx Recognizes Its Own

recognizing outstanding artists in the Bronx for 30 years

BCA's BRIO Award has been recognizing artistic excellence across a wide range of creative disciplines for 30 years. Annually, Bronx Recognizes Its Own (BRIO) provides direct support to individual Bronx artists who create works in the literary, media, visual, and performing arts, via awards of $4,000 each. Artists who have received a BRIO award – notably early career artists – represent the vast diversity of Bronx residents, inclusive of a large array of ethnicities, ages and genders that mirror the diversity of our borough. Over the years, BRIO has emerged as one of the most coveted distinctions amongst artists residing in the Bronx.

Bronx Council on the Arts takes the opportunity of this 30th anniversary to re-articulate BRIO's core emphasis – what BRIO has primarily highlighted – having distributed over $1,357,000 in support to 459 artists over the past three decades. Specifically, adjudication panels are comprised of seasoned artists and arts professionals from outside the boro who, guided by discipline specific criteria and experience, review submissions anonymously and select awardees for distinction, whose work demonstrates the following:

- An innovative approach to the discipline
- Probing and pushing of boundaries
- Technical expertise and high level of skill
- Ingenuity and rigor in its production
- An awareness of the medium within a historical context
- Compelling vision and original voice

In addition, winners are required to complete a one-time public service activity known as Artists for Community Enrichment (ACE) within a year of receiving the award. ACE events (ranging from performances with Q&As to workshops and classes) provide artists with additional visibility, and demonstrate to the community the wealth of artistic talent available in our borough.

BCA is proud to continue the BRIO tradition into the future, offering this invaluable honor in the Bronx that

- Boosts early career artists
- Highlights previously unknown voices
- Recognizes quality artistic practice
- Fosters connection between Bronx artists and their communities

SELECTION OF AWARDS

BRIO is adjudicated on a blind submission process. New panels of arts professionals are convened each year and select works that demonstrate

- An innovative approach to the discipline
- Probing and pushing of boundaries
- Technical expertise and high level of skill
- Ingenuity and rigor in its production
- An awareness of the medium within a historical context
- Compelling vision and original voice

All materials and information involved in the process are kept confidential and are viewed anonymously by the panelists. When the application is received, a code number is assigned to each application and its corresponding material. The applicant's coded work sample is the only identifying information available to the panelists for review. Materials not meeting the submission guidelines will render an application ineligible.

AWARD NOTIFICATION

Decisions will be e-mailed to all applicants in approximately May of the grant year. Winners will then be invited to a ceremony that following June, at which they will be honored and receive the award. BRIO winners are subsequently required to complete a one-time community service activity known as Artists for Community Enrichment (ACE) within a year.

ABOUT ACE (ARTISTS FOR COMMUNITY ENRICHMENT)

An important and integral component of BRIO is ACE which requires each awardee to present a one-time public service activity within the one-year period after the award. This initiative was created to provide artists with additional visibility, and also to provide Bronxites with the opportunity to experience the wealth of talent available in the community.

All BRIO awards are subject to verification of information submitted and proof of Bronx residency.

Who can apply?

- You must be 18 years old or older.
- You must be a resident of the Bronx. Applicants must provide 2 proofs of Bronx residency. (See instructions below)
- You must have an e-mail address
- You must have a Social Security number

Who is not eligible to apply?

- Full time graduate or undergraduate students enrolled in any degree program.
- Recipients of 2018 BRIO awards.
- Individuals who work for Bronx Council on the Arts.

General submission information

- Work samples must be from work created in the last 5 years (between 2013 and 2018).
- BRIO awards are adjudicated in a blind submission process. Panelists will evaluate submissions based on the materials they are viewing/hearing/reading. Applicants are advised to be highly selective and intentional in choosing work samples to submit. Poor quality work samples and materials will affect the panel's evaluation.
- In order to submit an application you must create an account online at Submittable.com.
- Eligible applicants can submit only one application in one discipline.
- Only submit materials necessary for the discipline in which you are applying.
- Any required information missing at the time of panel review will render the application ineligible.
- Work samples must not contain any identifying information (name, email etc.) in any part of the application, including file names; such information will render the application ineligible.
- Application links are available on-line at www.bronxarts.org beginning October 8, 2018.
